

JUNE 15, 2017

Photos: The Cranberries – Belfast Waterfront

by blackstaffmcd — in Photos. Leave a Comment

It's always been a dream of mine to see the Limerick Group live and in the flesh, from my earliest experiences with the band I have always had a love for the lilting brogue that Dolores brings to the stage and the ease in which they switch from soft almost college rock suited to a warm summer day, to heavy riffs and deep political messages for when you want to let your inner grunge out.

I can safely say that not a single person in the Waterfront that night was left disappointed, with the crowd on their feet multiple times, hands swaying along to the intoxicating, euphoric melodies of tracks such as “linger” and fists in the air for the punchier tracks like their popular classic “Zombie”

With the inclusion of a String quartet from the Irish Chamber Orchestra the band really used an arsenal of instruments to create a sonic symphony that was easy on the ears and a true pleasure to witness

With album sales reaching over 40 Million, and a vocalist that is truly a national treasure, I can safely say that this was one of the top gigs of 2017 without a doubt.

Massive thanks to Entertainment Publicist James Rollins and Lewis Deacon of Deacon Communications for the letting us Cover

View the full gallery here

Photos and article by Conor Kinahan

Share this:

Top releases of May/June
In "Opinion"

Wednesday 13 - limelight Belfast
In "Reviews"

Photos: The Devin Townsend Project - Limelight Belfast
In "Photos"

Leave a Reply

Enter your comment here...

PREVIOUS

Top releases of May/June

NEXT

Photos: The Devin Townsend Project – Limelight Belfast

TREASON ARCHIVES

June 2017

SOCIAL

