

CITY LIMITS favourite The Cranberries headline the Parkway on Thursday October 3rd. and will no doubt be previewing material from their forthcoming Island EP which will be accompanied by a nationwide U.K. tour. Dolores and the lads were in London last month where they played support to the House of Love at the Town & Country Club and are being mooted by the likes of Melody Maker and the NME as one of the bands "most likely to".

The Stables gig is free while advance tickets for the Cranberries are available from the Students Union shop at Plassey and the University's in-town information centre, the Music Vault in Upper Cecil Street.

Dolores Cranberry giving it a bit of that.
