Rag Week '90

2 ...And as usual the "I Soc" turned people green

3 "Cilla" tries to find the perfect Blind Date...

4 "Where's my Liga" the naughty twins at it again at the Bonny Baby Competition

1 Every Baby should have his bottle!

5 "Take that!" getting revenge at the water stocks

6 ...and then at night there were the gigs

7 ...'Quick pint afore we go' on the pink skulling relay obstacle race parties/gigs booked outside the Ents department will not be treated as U. L. gigs.

This may seem unfair at first but the object is to prevent a situation where students are being manipulated by other students or external promoters.

We are the biggest Student Ents. service in Ireland and the credit for that goes as much for the students as it does to the Ents. Department (our students are the best supporters of Students Ents. in the country).

I am the founder member of the National Ents. Committee. We meet regularly, organise tours, collective ents. and publicity together. I am also a member of the E.M.S.U. (the British equivalent of the N.E.C.) I go across to Britain for occasional meetings where, again, we collaborate on tours, insurance, collective buying, exchanging contacts etc.

Among the difficulties I run into when booking the named acts (especially the Irish ones) are the steep fees - fees which are occasionally unmatched by the acts' drawing power. We try to maintain the highest possible standards while keeping prices at an affordable level. The following name acts have played for U.L.: Billy Connolly, the Christians, 808 State, Ned's Atomic Dustbin, Technotronic, The Wedding Present, The Four of Us, An Emotional Fish, The Stunning, Christy Moore and Something Happens.

With your help, encouragement and support, we can develop Ents. even further.

THE "LIFE" PART OF STUDENT LIFE

Now that domestics are no longer a "maternal" matter, your generous scribe has assembled an article that will answer all the questions you thought would lose you your friends. Please peruse!

BER'S HOME EATING GUIDE

Because you have four years' food to eat as a student union member, we might as well have some say regarding what it's going to be! In order to keep you out of fast food and the resultant fast deterioration of your insides, Ber - our resident gourmet - has kindly prepared the following recipes. Watch out for Berspeak! The following recipes will feed six people each day.

MONDAY- FRENCH BREAD PIZZA

Today is Monday. We face into the rest of the week in the happy knowledge that a delicious, vegetarian meal is coming next.

INGREDIENTS:

- (1) French bread
(big fat loafs - buy them at Quinsworth or the Baker's Kitchen)
- (2) Be-hop cans of tomato puree
- (3) Oregano
