Hi everybody out there!

It's me Dolores, and I'm 30 years old today - yippee! I made it in one piece!

Anyhow, I just got back from the U.K. yesterday. I did press/promo on Monday (Edinburgh), Tuesday (Manchester) and Wednesday (London and here).

Sooo, it's sooo cool to be here with my babies and family and friends today. Don bought me loadsa flowers and balloons and a little bracelet. You know what's weird is now that I'm 30 I feel younger than I did when I was 20. I worked through most of my early twenties so I felt older and stressed out. Now I feel young and like a new beginning in the unpredictable journey of life.

Tomorrow at 8.30am we leave for Milan, then Verona, then Zurich etc. I'm so looking forward to it, but I'm glad that I "woke up and smelled the coffee" and took my birthday off to celebrate with loved ones; it's what life's all about, a little bit of fun is essential.

I'd like to thank you all on this special day for your support and love through all the years, you believed in the music - have a drink to my 30th!

Lots of love,

Dolores XX
