

March 13th 2002

Well, here we are in beautiful Madrid, having a ball! I just spent the afternoon strolling around near the Palace, refreshing ahhh!! We are back into the whole rhythm of touring again, it takes a few shows to get into the swing of it but then it's basically easy enough.

Weezer are opening up for us for the next three shows which hopefully will be mega 'cause I love them, so I'll definately go down early and check them out. We have had some brilliant nights on the bus thanks to Noel's gifted D.J.ing. We've been listening to "Ed Harcourt" a lot, he's kind of similar to "Jeff Buckley and "Radiohead", also "Puddle of Mudd" kind of a "Pearl Jam" vibe.

We have a day off in Barcalona tomorrow which is always a good thing as it's one of my favourite cities. I'm definately going to check out the " Sagarad Familia" also known as THE HOLY FAMILY Temple, which I've only ever seen from the outside but I've been told that it's mind-blowing inside. The architect "Antoni Gaudi" was an absolute genius. Oh! I just spotted the time I'd better go or I'll be late.

Take care ,

Fergal.
