

"TO ALL CRANFANS ON THE PLANET!"

(A letter from Dolores, written Tuesday 12th November 2002)

Hi there, it's me Dolores. I'm home for 8 days on a tour break and it's so great to sleep in my own bed. It's soooo nice when you wake up during the night to use the bathroom and you don't walk into a wall or stub your toe; that's what happens on tour usually (different rooms every time!) It's also nice to take a leak in a non-mobile loo! Peeing on a tour bus requires great skill and balancing technique! No, seriously though, this is a well-needed break.

I must thank you all sooooo much for the great support at the gigs. Most of the gigs have been amazing. Sometimes it brings a tear to my eye (awww, shucks)!

I really loved Asia; Indonesia was so gorgeous and Hong Kong too! I really got a strong emotional feeling in Croatia. Beautiful! Bliss! Istanbul blew me away! At 5.00am the music from the Mosques, the chanting awoke me. It was so gorgeous, it sounded a little scary at moments and at other moments very reassuring. It was like something from another dimension. I'd love to go back there on vacation and go and visit the Mosques. I believe it would really be inspiring. As ever, France and Spain were amazing and Italy is next on the list. It's really difficult to recall and remember every place that we were in, but I would just like to say THANK YOU!!!!

I think we're gonna take a tour break after Christmas just to recharge. Keep in touch with us, and I will with you.

God bless!

Love

Dolores xx

PS. Here's some of my own pictures I recently got developed. They were taken on the day of the World Cup Final (Soccer) this year, in Las Vegas. Now, don't they look like a real bunch of closet rock stars?"
